REPORT ON THE RESULTS OF THE REVIEW ENGAGEMENT
On the Interim Financial Statements
For the Six-Month Period Ended December 31, 2025

Dear : Esteemed Shareholders, Board of Directors, and Executive Management
HSV Vietnam Group Joint Stock Company

We have reviewed the accompanying interim financial statements of HSV Vietnam Group Joint Stock Company, prepared on August 05, 2025, from page 07 to page 46. These statements include the interim balance sheet as of June 30, 2025, the interim income statement, the interim cash flow statement for the six-month period of the financial year ending December 31, 2025, and the notes to the interim financial statements.

Responsibility of the Executive Management

The Executive Management of HSV Vietnam Group Joint Stock Company is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the interim financial statements in accordance with Vietnamese Accounting Standards, the Vietnamese Enterprise Accounting System, and relevant legal regulations applicable to the preparation and presentation of interim financial statements. Management is also responsible for such internal control as it determines is necessary to enable the preparation of interim financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on the interim financial statements based on our review. We conducted our review in accordance with Vietnamese Standard on Review Engagements (VSRE) 2410 – Review of Interim Financial Information Performed by the Independent Auditor of the Entity.

A review of interim financial information consists primarily of making inquiries, mainly of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with Vietnamese Auditing Standards and consequently does not enable us to obtain assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.

Auditor's Conclusion

Based on our review, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the accompanying interim financial statements do not present fairly, in all material respects, the interim financial position of HSV Vietnam Group Joint Stock Company as of June 30, 2025, and its interim financial performance and cash flows for the six-month period of the financial year ending December 31, 2025, in accordance with Vietnamese Accounting Standards, the Vietnamese Enterprise Accounting System, and relevant legal regulations governing the preparation and presentation of interim financial statements.

Other Matters

The interim financial statements for the six-month period ended December 31, 2024, and the financial statements for the year 2024 of HSV Vietnam Group Joint Stock Company were reviewed and audited by AASC Auditing Firm Company Limited, with an unqualified audit opinion.

INTERIM FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

For the first six months of the financial year ending December 31, 2025

IV. ACCOUNTING POLICIES

1. Basis of Preparation of the Interim Financial Statements

The interim financial statements are prepared on an accrual accounting basis (except for cash flow information).

2. Recognition Principles for Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, bank deposits, cash in transit, and short-term investments with maturities or redemption periods of no more than 3 months from the date of purchase. These are readily convertible to a known amount of cash and are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

3. Accounting Principles for Financial Investments

Held-to-maturity investments

An investment is classified as held-to-maturity when the Company has the intention and ability to hold it until maturity. Held-to-maturity investments include term bank deposits (including treasury bills and notes), bonds, and loans held to maturity with the purpose of earning periodic interest, as well as other held-to-maturity investments.

Held-to-maturity investments are initially recognized at cost, which includes the purchase price and transaction costs related to the acquisition of the investments. After initial recognition, these investments are recorded at their recoverable amount. Interest income from held-to-maturity investments after the purchase date is recognized on an accrual basis in the income statement.

Investments in Associates

Associates

An associate is an entity over which the Company has significant influence but does not have control over the financial and operational policies. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operational policy decisions of the investee, without having control over those policies.

Investments in associates are initially recognized at cost, which includes the purchase price or capital contribution plus directly attributable costs related to the investment. In the case of investments made by non-monetary assets, the investment cost is recorded at the fair value of the non-monetary assets at the date of the transaction.

Provision for impairment of investments in associates is made when the associate incurs losses. The provision is equal to the difference between the Company's actual contributed capital in the associate and the actual equity attributable to the Company's ownership percentage compared to the total contributed capital of the associate. If the associate prepares consolidated financial statements, the basis for determining impairment provisions is the consolidated financial statements.

Increases or decreases in the provision for impairment of investments in associates must be recognized at the financial year-end and recorded as finance expenses.

  - 50% of the value for debts overdue from 1 year to less than 2 years.
  - 70% of the value for debts overdue from 2 years to less than 3 years.
  - 100% of the value for debts overdue 3 years or more.
- For receivables not yet overdue but considered unlikely to be recovered: allowance is made based on the estimated loss.

5. Principles of Inventory Recognition

Inventories are recognized at the lower of cost and net realizable value..

The cost of inventories is determined as follows:

- Raw materials and goods: include purchase costs and other directly attributable costs incurred to bring the inventories to their current location and condition.
- Finished goods: include costs of raw materials, direct labor, and allocated manufacturing overheads based on normal operating capacity, as well as direct costs and related overheads incurred during the construction of real estate finished goods.
- Work in progress: includes only the cost of main raw materials

Net realizable value is the estimated selling price of inventories in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs to complete and estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

Inventory value is calculated using the weighted average cost method and accounted for using the perpetual inventory system.

Provision for inventory devaluation is made for each inventory item with a cost higher than its net realizable value. Increases or decreases in the balance of inventory provision must be made at the end of the financial year and recognized in the cost of goods sold.

6. Principles of Recognition and Depreciation of Fixed Assets

a) Principles of Recognition and Depreciation of Tangible Fixed Assets

Tangible fixed assets are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. The cost of tangible fixed assets includes all expenses the Company incurs to acquire the asset up to the point it is ready for use. Subsequent costs are capitalized only if they are likely to increase future economic benefits from the asset. Costs that do not meet this criterion are recognized as expenses immediately.

When tangible fixed assets are sold or disposed of, their cost and accumulated depreciation are removed from the books, and any resulting gain or loss is recorded in income or expense in the year of disposal.

Fixed assets are depreciated using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives. The depreciation periods for various types of fixed assets are as follows:

| Fixed Asset                        | Years |
|---|--------------|
| Buildings and structures                  | 30           |
| Machinery and equipment                   | 5 – 10       |
| Transportation and transmission equipment | 6 – 10       |
| Management equipment and tools            | 3 – 6        |
| Perennial plants                          | 10           |

b) Principles of Recognition and Amortization of Intangible Fixed Assets

Intangible fixed assets are stated at cost less accumulated amortization.

The cost of intangible fixed assets includes all costs the Company incurs to acquire the asset up to the point it is ready for use. Subsequent costs related to intangible fixed assets are expensed as incurred, unless they are directly attributable to a specific intangible asset and increase the economic benefits from that asset.

When intangible fixed assets are sold or disposed of, their cost and accumulated amortization are removed from the books, and any resulting gain or loss is recognized in income or expense in the year of disposal.

The Company's intangible fixed assets include:

Land Use Rights

Land use rights are recognized as intangible fixed assets when the Company is granted a Land Use Rights Certificate. The cost of land use rights includes all directly attributable costs necessary to prepare the land for its intended use.

- Land use rights at Phu Cat Village 3, Phu Cat Commune, Quoc Oai District, Hanoi City — The value for perennial plant cultivation on 903 m<sup>2</sup> is amortized on a straight-line basis over the land use period of 22 years.
- Perpetual land use rights at Phu Cat Village 3, Phu Cat Commune, Quoc Oai District, Hanoi City — 300 m<sup>2</sup> of long-term land is not subject to amortization.
- Perpetual land use rights at Apartment P906, Building C6, Block I, My Dinh Urban Area, My Dinh Commune, Tu Liem District, Hanoi City (now Cau Dien Ward, Nam Tu Liem District, Hanoi City) are not amortized.
- Perpetual land use rights at Apartment P905, Building C6, Block I, My Dinh Urban Area, My Dinh Commune, Tu Liem District, Hanoi City (now Cau Dien Ward, Nam Tu Liem District, Hanoi City) are not amortized.

7. Investment Property

Investment property includes land use rights, buildings, parts of buildings, or infrastructure owned by the Company that are held for the purpose of earning rental income or for capital appreciation. Investment property is stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. The cost of investment property includes all expenses the Company incurs or the fair value of assets given up to acquire the investment property as of the purchase or completion date.

Subsequent costs related to investment property incurred after initial recognition are expensed unless they are likely to increase future economic benefits beyond the originally assessed performance, in which case they are capitalized and added to the cost.

When investment property is sold, its cost and accumulated depreciation are removed from the books, and any resulting gain or loss is recognized in income or expenses for the year.

Transfers from owner-occupied property or inventories to investment property occur only when the owner ceases to use the asset and begins leasing it out or when the construction phase is completed. Transfers from investment property to owner-occupied property or inventories occur only when the owner begins to use the asset or starts to market it for sale. These transfers do not change the cost or carrying amount of the property at the transfer date.

Investment properties held for capital appreciation are not depreciated. If there is reliable evidence that the investment property held for capital appreciation is impaired compared to its market value, the carrying amount is reduced accordingly, and the impairment loss is recorded in cost of goods sold.

The Company's investment properties include:

Investment property held for capital appreciation

An investment property at Apartment No. 1911 – Park 3 Building, Vinhomes Times City Park Hill Urban Area, No. 25, Alley 13 Linh Nam Street, Mai Dong Ward, Hanoi City, with a usage area of 117.3 m<sup>2</sup> and a long-term use term according to the Land Use Rights Certificate No. AA 00666009, registration number VP18054 dated June 14, 2025. This property is owned by HSV Vietnam Group Joint Stock Company and is currently mortgaged as collateral for a loan at Vietnam Joint Stock Commercial Bank for Industry and Trade (VietinBank) – Thang Long Branch.

8. Accounting Principles for Prepaid Expenses

Prepaid expenses represent actual costs already incurred but related to the production and business activities of multiple accounting periods. These costs are allocated and transferred to expenses of subsequent accounting periods.

Tools and Equipment

Tools and equipment that have been put into use are allocated to expenses on a straight-line basis over a period not exceeding 3 years.

Prepaid Factory Rent

Prepaid factory rent is recorded at cost and allocated to the income statement on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Other Prepaid Expenses

Other prepaid expenses are recorded at cost and amortized on a straight-line basis over their useful life, ranging from 1 to 3 years.

9. Accounting Principles for Payables and Accrued Expenses

Payables and accrued expenses are recognized for amounts expected to be paid in the future related to goods and services already received. Accrued expenses are recorded based on reasonable estimates of the amounts payable.

The classification of payables into trade payables, accrued expenses, and other payables is based on the following principles:

- Trade payables represent liabilities of a commercial nature arising from the purchase of goods, services, or assets from third-party suppliers, including amounts payable related to imported goods through authorized import agents.
- Accrued expenses represent liabilities for goods and services already received from suppliers or already provided to customers but not yet paid due to the absence of invoices or incomplete accounting documentation. This also includes liabilities to employees for accrued leave and other production and business expenses to be accrued.
- Other payables represent liabilities that are non-commercial in nature and not related to the purchase, sale, or supply of goods and services.

10. Principles for Recognizing Borrowings and Finance Lease Liabilities

The Company must closely monitor the repayment terms of borrowings and finance lease liabilities. Obligations with repayment periods exceeding 12 months from the date of the financial statements are presented by the accounting department as long-term borrowings and finance lease liabilities. Obligations due within 12 months from the date of the financial statements are presented as short-term borrowings and finance lease liabilities to facilitate repayment planning.

For finance lease liabilities, the total lease obligation recorded on the credit side of account 341 reflects the total amount payable, calculated as the present value of the minimum lease payments or the fair value of the leased asset, whichever is lower.

11. Principles for Recognizing Accrued Expenses

Payables for goods or services received from suppliers, or provided to customers during the reporting period but not yet paid due to the absence of invoices or insufficient accounting documentation, as well as accrued interest expenses on borrowings, are recognized as expenses in the production and business operations of the reporting period.

The accounting of accrued expenses into production and business costs during the period must follow the matching principle between revenues and expenses incurred in the same period. Actual expenses incurred must be reconciled with the previously accrued amounts, and any differences shall be either reversed or additionally recorded into expenses accordingly.

12. Principles for Recognizing Owners' Equity

Contributed Capital from Owners

Contributed capital from owners is recognized based on the actual amount contributed by shareholders.

Undistributed Earnings

INTERIM FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Notes to the Interim Financial Statements (continued)

Undistributed earnings are recognized based on the business results (profits or losses) after corporate income tax, and reflect the distribution of profits or the treatment of losses by the enterprise.

Other Funds

These funds are appropriated and used in accordance with the Company's Charter and the resolutions approved annually by the General Meeting of Shareholders.

13. Profit Distribution

Profit after corporate income tax is distributed to shareholders after the appropriation of funds in accordance with the Company's Charter and legal regulations, and upon approval by the General Meeting of Shareholders.

The distribution of profit to shareholders takes into consideration non-cash items included in undistributed post-tax profit that may affect cash flows and the company's ability to pay dividends, such as gains from the revaluation of assets contributed as capital, gains from the revaluation of monetary items, financial instruments, and other non-cash items.

Dividends are recognized as liabilities when approved by the General Meeting of Shareholders.

14. Revenue Recognition Principles

Revenue from Sale of Goods

Revenue from the sale of goods is recognized when all of the following conditions are satisfied:

- The Company has transferred the majority of the risks and rewards of ownership of the products or goods to the buyer
- The Company no longer retains control over the goods nor holds managerial involvement as the owner of the goods.
- The amount of revenue can be measured reliably. If the contract allows the buyer to return products under specific conditions, revenue is only recognized when those conditions no longer exist and the buyer no longer has the right to return the goods (except where returns are in exchange for other goods or services).
- It is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the Company.
- The costs incurred or to be incurred in respect of the transaction can be measured reliably.

Interest Income

Interest income is recognized on an accrual basis and is determined based on the outstanding balances of deposit accounts and the effective interest rate for each period.

15. Accounting Principles for Cost of Goods Sold

Cost of goods sold during the year is recognized in alignment with the revenue generated in the period and ensures compliance with the prudence principle.

For direct material costs exceeding normal consumption levels, labor costs, and fixed manufacturing overheads not allocated to the value of inventory, the accounting must

17. Accounting Principles for Selling Expenses and General & Administrative Expenses

Selling expenses reflect actual costs incurred during the process of selling products, goods, or providing services, including costs for marketing, product promotion, advertising, sales commissions, warranty expenses for products and goods (excluding construction activities), storage, packaging, transportation, etc.

General and administrative expenses reflect the general management costs of the enterprise, including salaries and wages of administrative staff (salary, wages, allowances, etc.); social insurance, health insurance, union fees, unemployment insurance for management employees; office supplies, tools, depreciation of fixed assets used for administration; land rent, license tax; provisions for doubtful debts; outsourced services (electricity, water, telephone, fax, property insurance, fire insurance, etc.); other cash expenses (entertainment, customer conferences, etc.).

18. Principles and Methods for Recognizing Current Corporate Income Tax Expenses

Corporate income tax expense refers to the current income tax calculated based on taxable income. Taxable income differs from accounting profit due to adjustments for temporary differences between tax and accounting, non-deductible expenses, adjustments for non-taxable income, and carried forward losses.

The Company is obligated to pay corporate income tax at a rate of 20%.

19. Financial Instruments

Financial Assets

Classification of Financial Assets

The classification of these financial assets depends on the nature and purpose of the financial asset and is determined at initial recognition.

Financial Assets Measured at Fair Value Through Profit or Loss

Financial assets are classified as measured at fair value through profit or loss if they are held for trading or are designated as such at initial recognition.

Financial assets are classified as held-for-trading if:

- They are acquired or incurred principally for the purpose of selling or repurchasing in the near term;
- The Company holds them primarily for short-term profit-taking;

Available-for-Sale Financial Assets

Available-for-sale financial assets are non-derivative financial assets that are designated as available for sale or are not classified as financial assets measured at fair value through profit or loss, held-to-maturity investments, or loans and receivables..

Initial Recognition of Financial Assets

Financial assets are recognized on the trade date and derecognized on the settlement date. At initial recognition, financial assets are measured at purchase price/issue cost plus any directly attributable transaction costs.

Financial Liabilities

The Company classifies financial liabilities into the following categories: financial liabilities measured at fair value through profit or loss and financial liabilities measured at amortized cost. The classification depends on the nature and purpose of the financial liability and is determined at initial recognition.

Financial Liabilities Measured at Fair Value Through Profit or Loss

Financial liabilities are classified as measured at fair value through profit or loss if they are held for trading or designated as such at initial recognition.

Financial liabilities are classified as held-for-trading if:

- They are issued or incurred primarily for the purpose of repurchasing in the near term;
- The Company holds them primarily for short-term profit-taking;
- They are derivative financial instruments (except those designated as financial guarantee contracts or effective hedging instruments)

Financial Liabilities Measured at Amortized Cost

Financial liabilities measured at amortized cost are initially recognized at fair value, net of transaction costs, and subsequently measured using the effective interest method. Amortized cost equals the initial recognition amount minus principal repayments, plus or minus cumulative amortization of any difference between the initial amount and the maturity amount, and minus any reduction for impairment or uncollectibility (either directly or through a provision account).

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortized cost of a financial liability or a group of financial liabilities and allocating the interest income or interest expense over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments or receipts through the expected life of the financial instrument or, where appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount of the financial liability.

Initial Recognition of Financial Liabilities

At initial recognition, financial liabilities are measured at the issuance price plus any directly attributable transaction costs related to the issuance of the financial liability.

The fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities is reflected at the value at which the financial instrument can be exchanged in a current transaction between knowledgeable and willing parties.

The Company uses the following methods and assumptions to estimate fair value:

- The fair value of cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, loans, other receivables, borrowings, payables to suppliers, and other short-term payables approximates their carrying amounts (net of provisions for estimated uncollectible amounts) due to their short-term nature.
- The fair value of loans, accounts receivable, other receivables, borrowings, payables to suppliers, and other long-term payables, as well as held-to-maturity investments that are not listed on the stock market and have no quoted price, is estimated by discounting the cash flows at interest rates applicable to debts with similar characteristics and remaining maturity periods, as published by three securities companies,

4. Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk that a party to a contract fails to fulfill its obligations, resulting in a financial loss to the Company,

The Company faces credit risks from its business activities (mainly accounts receivable) and financial activities (bank deposits, loans, and other financial instruments),

INTERIM FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

For the first six months of the financial year ending December 31, 2025

Accounts Receivable

The Company mitigates credit risk by only conducting transactions with entities that have strong financial capacity, requiring letters of credit for first-time customers or those without available financial information. The accounts receivable team regularly monitors outstanding debts to expedite collection. Based on this approach and because the Company's receivables relate to many different customers, credit risk is not concentrated on any specific customer.

Bank Deposits

Most of the Company's bank deposits are held at major, reputable banks in Vietnam. The Company considers the credit risk concentration for bank deposits to be low.

5. Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company may face difficulties in fulfilling its financial obligations due to a lack of cash.

The Board of General Directors holds the highest responsibility for managing liquidity risk. The Company's liquidity risk mainly arises from the mismatch in the maturity dates of financial assets and financial liabilities.

The Company manages liquidity risk by maintaining an appropriate amount of cash and cash equivalents and borrowings at levels that the Board of General Directors deems sufficient to meet the Company's operational needs, minimizing the impact of cash flow fluctuations.

The maturity schedule of financial liabilities is based on expected contractual payments (undiscounted) as follows:

|                               | Within 1 year          | Over 1 year to5 years | Over 5 years | Total                  |

The Company considers the concentration risk related to debt repayment to be low. The Company is capable of meeting its debt obligations as they come due from cash flows generated by operating activities and proceeds from matured financial assets.

6. Market Risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in market prices. Market risk includes three types: foreign exchange risk, interest rate risk, and other price risks.

The sensitivity analyses presented below are prepared based on the net debt values, assuming the ratio between fixed-rate debts and floating-rate debts remains unchanged.
